Hi Fiber Friends!

We are accepting ads for the 2021 catalog. This year the printed catalog will be available early to advertise the event, as well as at the festival. As soon as it's ready, it will be featured on our website, even after the festival. This will allow your ad to reach many more fiber enthusiasts, including those who are unable to attend the festival.

Your advertising will also lend critical support to the festival. Your customers will know you care about the future of the fiber arts, and they will have a quick way to connect to you through the festival's website and Facebook page.

Ready to schedule an ad? Here are the details!
